

Pick disease

Pick disease

- Sometimes used synonymously with frontotemporal lobar degeneration, although this is probably unwise, as not all cases which fit clinically into a frontotemporal dementia have the underlying pathological changes seen in Pick disease.
- Typically manifests between the ages of 40 and 60 years, with a male predilection