

Mega cisterna magna

- Normal variant
- Focal enlargement of the subarachnoid space in the inferior and posterior portions of the posterior fossa.
- It is an incidental finding on neuroimaging, and no imaging follow up is necessary.

